ISSUE #9 | AUGUST 19TH, 2020

Holding the city in contempt — One year ago, Ktown for All, along with seven unhoused plaintiffs, sued the City of LA for seizing and destroying people's property during sweeps. This led to a preliminary injunction ordering the City of LA to stop taking people's bulky items. A few weeks ago, LA City Council voted 10-4 to resume sweeps, leading to violations of the injunction against the confiscation of people's bulky items. On Tuesday, our attorneys filed a motion to hold the City of LA in contempt for their continued violation of the court order. We are proud and grateful to the legal team at Legal Aid Foundation of LA, Schonbrun Seplow Harris, et. al, Kirkland & Ellis, and our #ServicesNotSweeps partners in San Pedro and Street Watch.

It has been painful hearing about the sweeps in San Pedro, Hollywood, and Chinatown, knowing that people are forced to contend with the City's destruction of their homes and belongings in the middle of a pandemic. LA City Council could have avoided this legal action if they had not voted to resume sweeps.

SERVICES NOT SWEEPS

Join us to fight for public health infrastructure and services, not sweeps and criminalization. All unhoused people are welcome. Your input is vital.

Email ktownforall@gmail.com to join our virtual meetings on Wed at 4pm.

Text Street Watch LA at (323) 379-2275 to inform us about sweeps or harassment by police or Sanitation.

COVID-19 Update

Los Angeles continues to struggle with the COVID-19 pandemic. Though the rate of infections, hospitalizations, and death are falling from day-to-day, Los Angeles remains the epicenter of California and the nation's current battle with the coronavirus. Los Angeles County stands at 226,000 infections total as of this writing, with 5,392 deaths so far; the next-highest number of deaths in California is currently in Riverside County, at 917 deaths. Latinx, Black, and Native Hawaiian / Pacific Islander communities continue to be disproportionately affected, as well as lower-to-no income residents.

Testing remains an issue, especially for unhoused residents. L.A. Sanitation CARE+ teams have been seen to be providing COVID-19 testing alongside showers, but only during intensive sweeps where LASAN forces residents to move their belongings for hours. Residents are forced to choose between having their belongings thrown away, or provided a shower and test.

Mayor Eric Garcetti has moved his coronavirus response onto parties in the Hollywood Hills. Mansions who have been found to repeatedly throw large gatherings have had their water and electricity shut off to force parties to stop. Garcetti, though, has continued to allow restaurants to set up cramped outdoor dining, and remains silent on cancelling rent for 20% of the city's residents who are still unemployed.
