Homeless Shelter Under Construction at Lafayette Park

The City of LA is building a homeless shelter at Lafayette Park (Hoover/Wilshire). Homeless service provider, PATH, is identifying potential clients for the shelter. At this time, PATH is asking us (Ktown for All) for help in finding people who might be interested in entering the shelter. To be clear, we are not professional service providers. Ktown for All consists entirely of unpaid volunteers, but we have offered to assist PATH in identifying interested people.

Additional information about the shelter:

- This is a 24/7 shelter - you do not have to leave during the day
- Both men and women are allowed
- There will be floor-to-ceiling partitions between beds for privacy
- There will be a total of 72 beds

PATH needs your first and last name to determine your eligibility. Any contact info would be helpful too. Ideally, they would like your location to make an in-person visit, but if you're uncomfortable with that, PATH can meet you elsewhere.

Feel free to let us know today or the next time we see you if you're interested. If you have other questions, we can pass them along.

“Hostile architecture” comes in many forms - large objects used simply to take up space, benches designed to be uncomfortable, spikes and bumps that prevent people from sitting down, or fencing to prevent people from camping on a public walkway. Everyone needs places to sit or rest, especially those who are unhoused, seniors, and people with mobility issues.

On Monday, we heard that over 60 large boulders had been placed along Cattaraugus Ave under the 10 freeway by anti-homeless NIMBY (not-in-my-backyard) vigilantes, we partnered with Street Watch LA and LACAN to mobilize against this cruelty. By Tuesday night, we had succeeded in moving the boulders and publicly shaming the NIMBY's who raised over $3,600 to purchase and transport the rocks.

If you come across hostile architecture, let us know!
